Current Situation

Pakistan is facing a catastrophic flood emergency, with key regions including Buner, Swat, Shangla, Gilgit-Baltistan (GB), and Eastern Punjab experiencing the most severe impacts. The intensity of the monsoon has been heightened by climate change, leading to a 26.5% increase in rainfall in Punjab compared to the previous year.

Official reports from the Disaster Management Authority confirm that 41 districts have been declared calamity-stricken. The current toll stands at 993 fatalities and 1,208 injuries. The floods have also caused significant agricultural and economic damage, with over 6,229 livestock lost. Infrastructure has been severely impacted, with 9,417 houses destroyed or damaged and over 680 schools affected. A total of more than one million people have been evacuated in Punjab alone, with many seeking refuge in camps or with family, while others remain exposed to the elements without shelter.

Ongoing evacuation efforts have relocated more than one million people in Punjab and about 120,000 people in Sindh. Many have found temporary safety in relief camps or with relatives, but a significant number of people are still stranded and without shelter, desperately awaiting for aid.

Over the next 48 hours, expect scattered thunderstorms and moderate rain across the upper catchments of major rivers and areas including Islamabad, Peshawar, Rawalpindi, and Gujranwala. Flood levels remain a concern, with the Indus River at Guddu in a "High Flood" state and the Chenab River at Panjnad also in "High Flood" but falling. The Sutlej River is experiencing a "Medium Flood."
