Penny Appeal was founded in 2009 by entrepreneur and philanthropist Adeem Younis. Following the loss of his father at the tender age of six, Adeem felt extremely passionate about helping orphan children and channelling his pain and suffering into something positive. He then started his mission of supporting orphans across Sohawa in Pakistan, this was his late father's hometown, and it was here that Penny Appeal was born.

Since its inception Penny Appeal has provided over £10 million (2,567,858,411 Pakistani Rupee) worth of aid to the people of Pakistan in the form of emergency support, orphan sponsorships, education programmes, food and water relief, women's welfare programmes, eyesight support and lots more.
